1918.

Sir,

It is reported that 1,900 troops who have instructions to move towards Chekiang, left Sungkiang on 2nd inst and proceeded to a place called Zah Woo Daung^{查武堂} which is on the way to Fung Ching. There are only about one hundred soldiers at Sungkiang now. Half of these are guarding the railway station and the other half are posted at the City gates.

Five hundred recruits who are quartered in the Doo S Koong Su^{圖書公司} were supplied with rifles at the Arsenal yesterday.

It is reported that Chen Chi Mei will leave for Japan soon.

It is said that Chiangchun Feng has received a telegram from the Yunnan revolutionaries saying that they have no connection with the rebels in Shanghai.

At 3.10 p.m. 3rd instant seven hundred and fifty infantry, seventy cavalry, and sixty artillery men passed through Shanghai en route from Wusieh to Woosung. These troops were sent from the latter place to Wusieh when that City was threatened by the Kiangyin rebels.

At 5.30 a.m. 4th instant five hundred recruits passed through Shanghai en route from the north to Woosung where they will be trained.

The Cantonese whose arrest on suspicion of being a rebel was referred to in yesterday's report is named Chu Tsung Su^{蘇振波}. He came from Japan a few days ago. Chu admits that he came here for the purpose of assassinating General Yang.

Your Obedient Servant,

Wm. A. A. A. A. A.

Chief Detective Inspector.

Captain Superintendent of Police.
